

Brief CV

Name/中文姓名	Juan Fang	Gender	F
Title (Pro./Dr.)	Pro.	Country	China
University/Department	Beijing University of Technology/ Faculty of Information Technology
Research Area	High performance computing; Edge computing; Big data technology.
Brief introduction of your research experience:
Fang Juan, professor and doctoral supervisor, is currently the deputy dean of the Beijing Institute of Smart City of Beijing University of Technology, the director of the Institute of Computer Architecture of the Faculty of Information Technology, and the head of the Internet of Things Engineering. Mainly engaged in theoretical and applied research work in high performance computing, edge computing, big data processing technology. In 2005 and 2012, she was twice funded by the China Scholarship Council (CSC) for academic exchanges in the United States for two years, and has visited or visited Australia, the Netherlands, Hong Kong and other countries or regions. She has presided one National Natural Science Foundation of China project and one Beijing Natural Science Foundation project, and many other projects. She has published more than 100 research papers on international major journals and important international academic conferences. Among them, more than 80 articles were cited by SCI and EI, 21 national invention patents, 34 software copyrights, 11 textbooks, 3 national standards, and 1 patent transformation.

All the columns need to be filled in.